Dear Ms. Saunders,

I am the Chair of the Jessamine County Republican party. We want to promote and support the passing of Amendment 2 on School Choice that will be on the ballot this November. We anticipate spending money on texts, signs and other advertising/promotional materials. There are many other groups, such as teachers' unions, promoting their thoughts on the issue. Therefore, we are seeking an advisory opinion on the legality of such expenditures, including the following:

1. May County committees make expenditures in support of or against constitutional amendment ballot issues?
2. If executive or County committees may make expenditures in support of or against constitutional amendment ballot issues, what expenditures are allowed and what are prohibited?

Because this issue is already being debated, we would appreciate any help with a quick decision.

Thank you for your time and attention to this request,

Kim Garrison, Chair RPJC
